DRAYTON VALLEY, ALBERTA -- JUNE 21, 1972

A heavy load, but all necessary for the five-day survival camp.

Evansview School Students Enjoy Outdoor Education

Can't seem to get away from doing those dishes -- even out in the "wilds".

Meals always seem to taste better when they're cooked over a campfire!

Students learned the art of sailing and canoeing.

There is nothing better than learning by experience, and grade seven students from Evansview school in Evansburg were given the chance to learn about outdoor life when they were subjected to the "wilderness" for five days.

Principal R. Kangas and teacher L. Roffel undertook the program to let students experience firsthand the life outdoors.

Some 38 students, with the permission of their parents, were given a budget to wotk with, a list of necessary materials, some instructions on camping, and made themselves ready for a five-day venture by Lake Wabamun.

The students left ready for anything the morning of June 12 and returned somewhat bedraggled and weary but eager to do it all over again June 16. Four teachers accompanied the students, acting as instructors in their busy schedule and as leaders of the four groups--the Eagles, Hawks, Falcons, and Ospreys.

According to Mr. Kangas, the intent of the Survival Camp was to expose students to a situation in which they would be called upon to use very basic knowledge and materials, and to maintain themselves for five days.

The four groups determined their own menus for the five days, and were given a basic allotment each with which to work. Each group had to cook their own food and maintain their own campsite, given tents and cooking utensils as basic materials.

"The students would gain from this exposure a better understanding of survival outdoors," said Mr. Kangas, "and a chance to develop leisure time activities and skills."

Facilities of the Ernest Poole Scout Camp near Fallis were obtained, including sailboats, canoes, archery equipment, closed off swimming area and activity shelters, with tents and other equipment being borrowed from the community.

Teachers Miss Hawryluk, Mr. Weir, Mr. Belyk, and Mr. Roffel instructed such activities as swimming, camp craft (setting up tents, building fires, cooking), ar-

Stony Plain Meet Discusses Programs for Lake Wabamun

STONY PLAIN -- Cooling devices that will eliminate the introduction of heat in Lake Wabamun will be installed at Calgary Power Ltd.'s Sundance steam thermal plant, senior engineer Walt Saponja told a public meeting here Wednesday.

The company also discussed its program to reclaim strip-mined land next to the plant and for cutting down air pollution.

Mr.Saponja said the Company is studying alternatives for cooling the water discharged from the plant, but the final cost could be as high as $30,000,000.

He said Calgary Power currently favors the cooling pond method, rather than the more costly and cumbersome cooling tower.

The Sundance plant requires large quantities of water for cooling purposes. After the water has been passed through the plant, it must be cooled for re-use.

Mr. Saponja said the company would create a pond that could cover as much as 1,000 acres; however, he said spraying devices installed on the surface of the pond may reduce the size.

The meeting at Stony Plain was called by Calgary Power to explain to lake residents -- both permanent and summer-cottage owners -- the effects of the company's thermal plants on the environs.

Invitations were mailed to all residents of the lake area.

Because there is some loss of water through evaporation during the cooling process, Mr. Saponja explained that 'make-up water' must be found. Calgary Power is now studying the possibility of transferring water via pipeline from the North Saskatchewan River, some 8 or 10 miles away.

"The use of devices such as cooling towers or ponds increases the evaporation rate appreciably. This means that a make-up system will be required.

"It is now planned that a make-up system would be built to supply water from the North Saskatchewan River to the cooling pond."

Across the lake from the Sundance plant is the company's first thermal plant -- the Wabamun steam thermal generating plant.

The heated effluent from this plant has for a number of years been blamed for the weed growth in Kapasiwin Bay.

"The company with its interest in maintaining the lake for joint use of recreation and industry has sponsored a number of stud-

Imperial Names New Manager

Tom Whaling, a member of the Drayton Valley Imperial Lumber staff for the past year, has been promoted to the position of manager.

He was offered the position in May when former manager Wes Hullick was transferred to Red Deer.

Born in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, Mr. Whaling attended school in the northern Saskatchewan community of Spiritwood. After graduating, he went into construction for five years in Red Deer. He then worked in the lumber yards at Edson for five years before coming to Drayton Valley in June of 1970.

Married and with two children, Mr. Whaling feels the lumber business holds a good future, and hopes to remain with it.

CLUB MEETS

On Monday, June 5th the Sundance 4-H Beef Club held its June meeting.

The Achievement Day display was discussed. A stall painting day was choosen for June 17th at Woods.

Weather Causes Slight Drop In Fish Derby Attendance

Unfavorable weather on the weekend of June 9 to 12 caused a drop in attendance at the annual Buck Mountain Fish Derby from last year's 612 to 557 this year.

Derby officials, from the Breton Fish and Game Association, sponsors of the event, were satisfied with attendance despite the weather and are already looking to additional improvements for next year's derby.

D.V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

We are happy to report that Mrs. Wiechert is well enough to go home from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Smith of Norman Wells are home for a few days to visit with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cowan and their families were in Grande Prairie last week to attend the Alberta Elks Association Convention. They feel they were lucky to get away before floods cut off the roads.

Mrs. Donaldson, the former Gladys Metheral, accompanied by Mrs. Ken Drummond (nee Alice Hellyer) were in town Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Donaldson taught in Drayton Valley's one-room school in 1931, having come from her home in Crossfield. She had been here only a short time when the school burnt down and for the rest of the year classes were held in the Church of God. When Mr. Donaldson died, Mrs. Donaldson again returned to the classroom--this time in Calgary, where she has taught for the last 18 years. She has just retired and plans to do a bit of travelling. She will go to Thomas, Oklahoma to visit her Drayton Valley landlady Mrs. Aaron Bennett, now Mrs. Roberts. Mrs. Donaldson and Mrs. Drummond crowded a lot of visiting into their brief stay in Drayton Valley. Mrs. Drummond visited her uncle, Helmer Ramstead, and both ladies spent time with Mr. Chester Miller. Mr. Miller had been on the local school board when Drayton Valley began a 10-month term of school instead of school during the summer months. The party was entertained by Mrs. Malainey and the Bohdan Urchyshyns. Those of the Mrs. Donaldson's former pupils who are still living in the district, and were not fortunate enough to see her will be disappointed.

Mr. Ted Harris's house was completely destroyed by fire on Saturday when a stove exploded. Mr. and Mrs. James Strickland and family were living in the house and escaped without injury. Mr. Strickland's hands required treatment.

chery, sailing, canoeing, astronomy, orientation, nature and geology hikes, and environment pollution studies.

Part of their final day was set aside for judging and competitions in canoeing, swimming, archery, pioneering, camp craft, and the best sundial.

Prior to the survival camp the students received instruction in basic camp craft at the school. A campsite was set up and students learned about different knots and lashings, different types of campfires, menu preparation, open-fire cooking, selection of campsites, and basic camping tools.

Students were evaluated on their participation in various activities.

"We feel that if the intent is exposure," said Mr. Kangas in his brief to the Yellowhead School Division, "then the evaluation should be based on participation."

Although some of the students were hit by the flu bug while they were at the camp, most enjoyed their experences and some expressed the desire to "do it again."

The first time such a program was carried out in the Yellowhead School Division, Mr. Kangas feels it was the best opportunity to expose students to lifetime recreational activities, to let them experience and apply sciences in a natural setting, and to socialize in other than a school atmosphere.

M.L.A. Now Living In Drayton Valley

M.L.A. Rusty Zander and family have moved into their new home in Drayton Valley from their farm home near Tomahawk. Their new telephone number is 542-3078.

Their new home, completed recently, is located on 50th Avenue across from the Church of God.

ies and research programs centering around the weed problem," Mr. Saponja said.

"Beginning in late May this year a direct attack on the weed problem was launched by the company when a mechanical weed cutting and removal program got underway."

This program was established voluntarily by Calgary Power, and involves co-operation from the Government of Alberta and the residents of the Village of Kapasiwin. The weed cutting program is expected to cost some $135,000 this year.

In addition to the weed cutting program, that is concentrated in a 230-acre area of the lake near the Wabamun plant, other studies will be undertaken.

Dr. John Allan of the Canada Department of Agriculture will conduct tests designed to measure the amount of nutrients removed from the lake through the weed cutting.

In addition Dr. Allan will be carrying out a small-scale program of experiments to test the effects of aquatic herbicides. Dr. Donald Gallup, under the sponsorship of the Government of Alberta, will study the weed cutting and herbicide programs, and their effects on living organisms.

Firm Appoints Sales Representative

L.D. Travis, better known as Buster, has now been appointed as a sales representative for New Holland equipment in the Drayton Valley area with D.V. Ford-Mercury Ltd.

Mr. Travis comes to Drayton Valley with many years of farming experience in the County of Lac Ste. Anne, as well as several years political experience at the county level.

He served with the County of Lac Ste. Anne council as such for five years, acting as Deputy Reeve and Chairman of the School Committee during that time, and being one of the original councillors when the County was formed in 1965.

Previous to his County service, he held position on the council of the old M.D. in 1954 and 1955.

Mr. Travis served on the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission for four years, was on the executive of the School Trustees Association at the zone level for one year, worked in construction and assessing for the County for four years, held the position of original secretary-manager of the Darwell Rural Electrification Association for 13 years, acted as Supervisor for the Federal Bureau of Statistics in the old federal constituency of Jasper-Edson in 1958 and 1969, and found time to become involved in such interests as commercial fishing, lumbering, and cattle and sheep ranching.

Mr. Travis was born in 1917 in Admiral, Saskatchewan, with municipal political backgrounding provided by his father's activities in council. Married to Della in 1938, they took a farm in Darwell 10 years later, where they raised six children and now boast of six grandchildren.

Pembina Provincial Park officials feared flooding at the camp grounds last week when heavy rains raised the river level above normal.

Tomahawk News

Jane and Val Enjeneski had quite a surprise party for their 25th wedding anniversary.

Val's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jones, had arranged to take the couple out for the evening. On the pretense of forgetting the tickets for the outing, the Jones' returned to Tomahawk with Jane and Val. There at the hall were waiting friends and relatives with a guest book and a gift of money.

At 11:30 M.C. John Kayko called upon Rudolph Zander to say a few words.

"They are grand people and very good neighbors," he said. Val responded by saying that he had always thought that those who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary should feel old, but that he didn't feel old at all.

Music was supplied by Bill Kohanski, his wife and two daughters. When Jane and Val were married 25 years ago, Bill, his father, and his brother supplied the music.

The Tomahawk Community Library Board held a short meeting June 15. Ten members were present. The secretary reported that the winter's whist drives were very profitable. The library will be open five days a week in September from 2-3:30 p.m. Anyone interested in working 1 1/2 hours a month at the library, please contact Mr. Overbo. The library will close for the holidays, but will be open July 13 for those wishing to exchange books. Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Holman will try to attend the library meeting June 22.

Irene and Shorty Case returned from their B.C. holiday June 11. They left on April 19, going to Castlegar and staying with Shirley and Roger Perras for three weeks. They then spent some time in Vancouver, and visited and fished on the way home.

Get well wishes go to Adele Stienke and Martha Knopp, who have undergone surgery; Robert Parfieniuk, who is under observation; and Chris Reich, all of whom are in the university hospital.

The Welks took a quick trip to Vernon, B.C. on Farmers' Day weekend to visit Gerold Criss (Lenora's uncle), who just moved there. Kathy will be going to Vernon June 24 for a three-week holiday.

June 15 was Alma and Dan Schadeck's 25th wedding anniversary. It was also Fin and Eileen Shaw's 28th anniversary. The two neighbors had a barbeque supper at Schadeck's.

The Tomahawk and District Club board met June 12 at the rec centre. Plans were made for the July 1st picnic and dance. The schedule will be: 10:00 a.m., Parade starting at the rec centre and proceeding through the town to the Sports grounds, There will be no entry fee and a first, second and third prize. 11:00-12:15, Mosquitos ball game; 12:15-1:15, Tom Thumbs ball game; 1:15 to 2:30, Beavers baseball game; 2:30-3:00, 4H Slave sale; 3:00, races; 4:00-5:15, girls 16 & under ball games; 5:30, men's harball game.

Also during the day there will be horseshoes, bingo, ball throw, fish pond, and confectionery booths. At the curling rink there will be a handicraft and hobbies display. Inquiries about the fair can be made by phoning Marion Jouan at 339-2342.

Entry to the grounds will be 75¢ for 16 years and up. To round up the Canada Day celebration there will be a dance at the hall, $1.50 admission, with the local orchestra playing.

Oil Wives End Another Term

Oilwives held their wind-up meeting June 12 with 72 members and six guests present.

The executive gave year-end reports and presented co-chairman with spoons. Eunice Lyle presented the following ladies with five-year pins: Mae Barker, Myrna Boscher, Dianne Dmytryshyn, Mary Ibbotson, Carole Lawrence, Claudette Novasel, Lynda Shirvell, Frieda Strauss, Irene Wilkes.

Rose Huber received her 10-year pin and Jeanette Miner presented 32 Oilwives with perfect attendance pins.

Iris Diachuk read the revised Oilwives' by-laws and a vote was taken and passed.

The $20 the Oilwives donated to the Drama Club has been returned. Lil Ross, who was representing the drama club, feels there were too many Oilwives opposed to it--the reason being that Oilwives is not a service club and could become too involved in the future with the sponsoring of groups.

Thanks to Val Swendseid and her group of women for decorating the Oilwives' car for the parade.

Myrna Boscher reported on the annual ball game at Sherwood Park June 18.

The meeting ended with the executive receiving pins and the new executive taking their places.

Carole Lawrence and Pat Jenkins of Valley House of Flowers showed a display of floral arrangements. Mae Barker, new president, was presented a rose corsage. Winners of the floral arrangements were Mae Barker, Lil Ross and Joan Anderson.

Mae Barker will be taking the first executive meeting September 5 at 8:00 p.m.

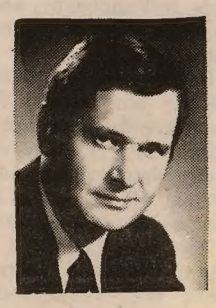
Report From Parliament Hill



By Allen Sulatycky, M.P.

The Canada Wildlife Act which received first reading in the House of Commons several weeks ago is the first major wildlife legislation to be introduced in Parliament in over 50 years. The existing Act is based on a 1916 convention signed with the United States.

The new Act will provide the Minister of the Environment with the authority to develop and implement, in cooperation with the provinces, a more effective program of wildlife conservation.

The Act, to be administered by the Canadian Wildlife Service will provide authority to the Minister to acquire, control and manage lands for migratory bird conservation, research and interpretation.

In cooperation with provincial and territorial governments he will be able to carry out similar activities on behalf of wildlife species other than migratory birds. New agreements will be entered into with the provinces and territories to study, manage and interpret wildlife.

Further to those steps the Minister would be empowered to take such measures as he deems proper, in cooperation with provincial and territorial governments for the protection of endangered wildlife.

The need for the legislation arose from the fact that wildlife, with the exception of migratory birds and wildlife in national parks, is under the legislative jurisdiction of the provincial and territorial governments. And yet, because wildlife is no respecter of boundaries, there has been an increasing need for more coordination in wildlife management and research. Resolutions passed at federal-provincial conservation conferences have called for greater federal involvement.

The Canadian Wildlife Act will provide a specific legislative basis for the Canadian Wildlife Service to carry out its existing wetlands management program as well as for the broad objectives spelled out in the National Wildlife Policy and Program.

It is expected that most conservation-minded Canadians across the country will support this legislation, in particular the Canadian Wildlife Federation, Fish and Game Associations, and local conservation and wildlife organizations.

Your Part in Hail Supression

Alberta farmers will play a leading role in this summer's hail studies now underway at Mynarski Park at Penhold.

Hail reporting kits have been mailed to 35,000 farmers living south of Edmonton. By mailing in the essential information the farm population can help hail studies scientists in careful ckecking and logging of every storm. At the end of the summer all the reports will be coded and put on the master computer file with 60,000 other reports from previous years. In this way rapid comparison can be made with the hail patterns in previous years and seeded storms compared with those which were unseeded.

A smaller group of farmers are also operating precipitation sampling stations, 400 of which have been set up during the past month between Edmonton and Calgary. The samples from these stations will be used to determine when the silver iodide seeding material put into the hail storms comes out in the precipitation.

Scientists, air crew, technicians and farmers -- working hand in hand -- could eventually solve the problem of devastating hail storms. Mailing the requested reports appears to be a useful way to play an active part in helping this important program.

What Makes Men Strong?

Submitted by Pastor K. Smith

"Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding." Proverbs 3:5

Through many years of active life, and the observation of many kinds of people, I have found that the strongest, wisest, most competent and reliable man is also the first to admit his inadequacy.

Contradictory though it may sound, he is strong because he is humble--and remembers always that man is the creation of God. No rule of life is more basic.

When man "learns on his own understanding"...when he lives by his own strength,..when he boasts of probing the mysteries of the atom, the depths of the sea or the secrets of outer space--he forgets God and claims he is his own master. The result is untold suffering.

Even though one's position is maintained, even though material wealth increases, success quickly turns to failure when God has been forgotten. There is no peace of mind, no personal satisfaction, no personal experience of inward joy.

To "trust in the Lord with all thine heart" is a mark of strength. And it is the only path to happiness, success and true fulfillment.

MARSH WORLD

by ANGUS SHORTT

YELLOWTHROAT

Shy and elusive, this small yellow and green warbler is a resident of marsh edges darting about among reed beds or willow thickets. The male has a striking black face mask, the female has none; both are olive-green above and yellow below, brightest on upper breast. Song is a clear, ringing "witchery - witchery - witchery". Nests are situated on or close to the ground and are somewhat bulky structures, interlaced into supporting vegetation. Yellowthroats are found across southern Canada from coast to coast.

MMER CAMP

Boys and girls, eight years and older, will have an opportunity this summer to participate in a four-day overnight camp where outdoor cooking, hiking, games, arts and crafts, and nature lore will be part of the program. The children will be sleeping in teepees and our staff has planned the program such that as many children as possible can be involved in this exciting camp. Please note that the registration details can be obtained through the Recreation Office of the "Here Comes Summer" brochure. There is one correction--Wilderness Camp #3 is now scheduled from August 7-11.

After the successful program last fall, our Canoe Trips have been expanded to include two programs on the N. Saskatchewan River and one program through Chickakoo Lakes north of Stony Plain. The trip will be one of four-day duration offering instruction in canoeing, outdoor living, and local and natural history for boys and girls 12 years and over. Qualified Parkland Recreation staff will supervise all camps. See summer brochure for registration details.

We believe that all of our camps will provide an exciting and challenging experience for the campers, so register early and take advantage of the Parkland adventure.

In Drayton Valley Wednesdays at Sekura Auctions
From 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Firstly, we have been advised by the Provincial Tree Nursery at Oliver that they have an oversupply of White Spruce. It is intended to make these available at the Tree Nursery during the week of August 21 to 25th, 1972 on a self help basis. Farmers have to go to the Nursery and load these larger spruce 2' in height, directly into their vehicles.

Requests must be forwarded to this office not later than August 1.

Secondly, our Agricultural Advisory Committee is looking for ideas to improve farmstead appearance. The way your farmstead looks is a part of the business that too often is overlooked. Many producers argue that they are too busy, and that they do not have time to keep things as they should. We are the first to agree that farmers have very little spare time. Nevertheless, the matter of keeping things picked up is not strictly a matter of time but rather a case of habit.

A farm does not have to be elaborate to be impressive. It does not need new, modern buildings enclosed with white board fences and new equipment. Neither does it require a paved blacktop driveway and a full time gardener.

What makes a farm more attractive than others is the attention given to small details. Having a farm sign, keeping the yard mowed and the weeds down around the buildings and fences, and hauling the junk away help more than anything else. We describe junk as something you will never use again such as worn out farm implements rusting away in scattered places around the yard. In each of these spots, they become targets for tin cans, baling wire, twine, fertilizer bags, etc. If it is worth keeping it is worth putting aside and caring for.

Even if nothing else is done, if these items are taken care of you can make your farm look like a thriving business. A little paint, hammer and nails, a fence stretcher, a few loads of gravel and a little pride all help to improve "first impressions". Perhaps you have some ideas on obtaining help with Farmstead Beautification Project, such as a competition, a clean-up week or changing the emphasis of fund raising projects.

A positive attitude towards safety instilled in children starting with the very young will equip them to cope with hazards all their lives.

A.S.T.A. HOLDS SPECIAL MEETING

The Alberta School Trustees' Association held a special convention in Calgary June 12 and 13 to consider the important question of school finance. A new grant structure for school finance will be defined by the provincial government later this year. Many resolutions related to financing education were considered at the convention. A resolution sponsored by the County of Parkland requests that the provincial government increase immediately its level of support for school construction projects. It has been determined that support levels have not kept pace with construction costs of labor and materials. As a result of very high tenders received for the construction of the new Brookwood Park Elementary School in Spruce Grove, the School Committee has instructed the architect to redesign, respecify, and retender the proposed school. Delegates to the convention from the County of Parkland included Chairman George Mann, Mrs. B. Howery, Mrs. E. Clarke, Mr. R. Bailey, Mr. J. Fuhr, Mr. M. McCullagh, Mr.I. Vowk, Mr. C. Grand Trunk Making Progress

The construction of the Grand Trunk High School, Evansburg, Alberta has progressed to a point where the Masonry Contractor has completed the masonry work with the exception of rubbing down and final waterproofing of the exterior masonry. The built-up roofing is seventy percent completed, with only the gymnasium, the penthouses and a small section of corridor area remaining to be roofed. The flashings have yet to be installed.

The General Contractor has poured approximately twenty percent of the interior concrete floors. Compaction tests have been taken prior to the pouring of each floor, and these results have been excellent.

The Mechanical Contractor has the equipment placed in the Boiler Room, and Upper Fan Room, and assembly of this equipment and running of piping throughout the building is now in progress.

The Electrical Contractor is running lines throughout the building, and his work is progressing nicely. The structural steel has been erected over the gymnasium area, and the steel deck is scheduled for erection this week.

THE HOT AND COLD OF IT

The main goal in laundering is no different than it was in Grandma's time: to get the Cleanest Wash.

Cold water detergents have challenged the old "hot water" routine. Are the cold water detergents successfully removing laundry soil?

COLD WATER DETERGENTS RESEARCHED

Six Experimental Stations in the U.S.A. recently conducted studies on the question. White cotton fabrics were soiled to resemble normal wear conditions. Some were laundered with hot water (140 degrees F) and heavy duty granular detergent, some with hot water and liquid cold water detergent, others in cold water (70 degrees F) with the same granular and liquid detergents.

After washing, several judges independently rated samples from all four wash loads for appearance, smoothness and softness. Detailed laboratory tests determined soil and oil retention, shrinkage, whiteness and fabric strength.

Research results showed that substantially more oil and clay type soil were removed in hot water than in cold, and that oily soil build-up was greater in samples washed in cold water.

In both hot and cold water, the regular granular detergent was more effective, and the fabrics were whiter than with the liquid detergent designed for cold water laundering.

Fabric smoothness and softness were judged better when washed in hot water rather than cold. The type of detergent had no effect on smoothness and softness.

The money saving aspect of using cold water for laundry is one selling feature. The cost of detergents, and water heating varied greatly, and the costs of adding bleach for sanitation purposes must also be considered. Therefore, no general statement could be applied to costs of laundering by hot water versus cold water methods.

Although this study was not all-inclusive in using all brands of cold water laundry detergents, it does point out the sanitation factor of hot water. Also, it confirms the belief that oily stains require hot water for most thorough removal. The consumer must decide whether any differences in costs are great enough to influence her choice between hot and cold water laundering and the relative cleanliness of the laundry.

Mrs. Burrows Completes Five Business Courses

Another 'first' has been set in Drayton Valley. Mrs. Mary Burrows of Burrows Motors is the first person in the town to complete five business courses under the Division of Vocational Education, Department of Advanced Education and receive her diploma.

Courses of interest to businesses, from accounting to personnel, from retail management to business law are offered by the government of Alberta to any town wishing to sponsor the program.

First sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in 1965, the Drayton Valley Retail Merchants Association have undertaken sponsorship.

Mrs. Burrows, an accountant, completed all five courses offered each year: Management Accounting, Business Law, Business Development, Retail Management, and Human Relations.

She felt that so many small businesses go under because they don't know management. Such courses as are offered by the Advanced Education Department would greatly help these businessmen.

Mrs. Burrows emphasized the need of good relations between staff and the public, and felt that the Human Relations course should be taken by all businessmen.

Towns which undertake the program have over 30 topics to choose from, each topic costing about $15 to $20 per person, and lasting 10 to 20 weeks. Sessions are about two hours long and, in Drayton Valley usually run from January to Easter.

A certificate is issued to each participant upon successful completion of a course. A diploma is issued to participants who successfully complete five different courses.

Buck Creek News

Mr. Harry Nielson celebrated his 80th birthday June 11, with 38 relatives and friends present from Drayton Valley, Edmonton, Morin, and Victoria. The Birthday Party Gang of Buck Creek planned a cold plate dinner, along with Danish dishes prepared by Mrs. Lisa Jensen and a Danish birthday cake presented by the Knudskov family.

Maureen and Stan Safronovich spent Sunday in Wetaskiwin at a family gathering with about 64 members present.

Bernice Thirsk, Stan Safronovich, Wendy Stec, Ted, Roy and Irene Rolf all rode their horses in the Evergreen Rodeo Parade. Along with Ken Thirsk's chariot team, Buck Creek was well represented.

Ester Dahlberg of Wetaskiwin is visiting the Stan Safronovich home for a few weeks.

The Brady Brewsters and Granddad Brewster of Buck Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Reg Johnston of Whitecourt attended the funeral of Mrs. Brewster's mother, Mrs. Lydia DeBloq, of Warburg on June 6 at Telfordville.

A speedy recovery to Gene Stec in Drayton Valley hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill MacDonald of Victoria visited the Whittaker home for several days.

The Teen Club thanks all who attended their dance, and Mrs. Lil Gailey and Tom and Lorraine for chaperoning.

Be fire careful ... help keep Alberta green.

SUB-MITS

FROM THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

A reminder to parents of beginners - an orientation program for your child has been planned for the week of June 26 to 29. Please check with the school office (542-3544) if you need more information about these very important days for your child. The present grade one classes will be dismissed this Friday.

The track meets of both schools are now history. Thanks to dedicated parent volunteers the days' events ran smoothly. Grade plaques were won by the following classrooms. Grade one - Mrs. McDonald, grade two - Mrs. Harrison, grade three - Mrs. Sawchyn, grade four - Mrs. Oakes, grade five - Mr. Lenihan, and grade six - Mr. Betton.

Mrs. Oakes and Miss Bolstler's grade four classes visited Fort Edmonton this past week. The children were most impressed with the size of this project and noted particularly how steep the plank steps were to climb.

Another field trip was also undertaken by Miss Yakimchuk's and Miss Stewart's grade five classes to the Alberta Museum and the Planetarium.

From a grade four Health exam - Three causes of fatigue in the classroom are Arithmetic, Enterprise and Spelling.

550 Handicapped to Attend Camp

Some 550 handicapped people are expected at 10 camping sessions at Camp He-Ho-Ha this summer.

Dr. Ken Gordon, chairman of the camp board and executive, told 160 people at the camp's third annual appreciation day last Saturday the number of people using the camp had increased each year as had the number of camping periods, from 206 people at five sessions four years ago.

A sod-turning ceremony marking the start of an ecumenical chapel to be built by the Masters, Deacons, and Wardens Association of Edmonton was also held and a number of presentations were made.

Ed Bean turned over $7500 from Edmonton South Kiwanis Club toward sponsorship of one complete camping session.

Norman Kock presented a utility van donated by Edmonton City Police Association and Dalton Skinner of Red Deer presented $2,000 donated by delegates to the convention of the Canadian Electrical Distributors Association held in Jasper.

Many other organizations, employee groups, and individuals donated varying amounts for sponsoring handicapped campers at the rate of $100 per camper.

Dr. Edmund J. Thompson, former president of St. Stephen's College, guest speaker at the appreciation day, said the handicapped person doesn't seek sympathy but simply requires understanding.

Summer 1972 camps run from May 27 to Sept. 16. The camp, about 30 miles northeast of Drayton Valley on Lake Isle is operated by the executive of the camp board representing 25 organizations and business firms.

The Associated Canadian Travellers, Edmonton Club, which is in the second year of a $60,000 expansion program at the camp, holds the operational lease.

The Camp is owned by the Alberta Rehabilitation Council for the Disabled.

Entwistle Mill Rate Remains Stable

At a meeting of the Entwistle Council held June 12, the 1972 budget for the village was finalized and the rate of 80 mills established by the passing of by-law no. 190.

Due to a lower equalized assessment this year and a rise in the actual assessment the village had no difficulty in holding the mill rate at 80 mills--the rate for the past two years.

Total school costs represent 28.35 mills; health costs, 5.37 mills; and Municipal costs and debt charges 46.28 mills.

The possibility of rezoning Block 6 on the south side of 50th Ave. from highway 16A to 51st St. was considered by Council. Residents have requested these lots be rezoned from C1 (commercial) to R1 (residential) property.

By-law no. 191 authorizing the Village to acquire Lots 6 and 7 Block 5 Plan 6543X from the Dept. of Highways and Transport was given 3 readings and passed by Council.

Brian Ganske's resignation as Chairman of the Recreation Board was accepted with regret. A new member of the Board will be chosen to act as Chairman until new appointments are made in September.

A raise in the rental price of trailer lots owned by Village from $7.50 per month to $10.00 per month will become effective August 1, 1972.

A representative of Alberta Housing Corporation will be invited to meet with Council in July 10 to discuss new residential development in the village.

Whitby News

Connie Hagen and Ken Dusterhoft were married June 10 in the Drayton Valley Lutheran Church, with the reception following in the Elks Hall. The couple went to Vancouver for their honeymoon.

Get well wishes to Hubert Davidson, who is now in an Edmonton hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dusterhoft attended the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. V. Enjeneski.

Herman and Wanda Dusterhoft went to a barbeque at Dr. Cameron's. They took Diana into Edmonton where she is now working.

The Whitby Picnic held on Fathers' Day had a good turnout. All the children put their names in a draw for Fathers' Day gifts. Winners were Carter Reich, Jeffrey Schadeck, Barry Carrothes and Audra Swap.
